Maine Outdoors Recommends

Places to Eat that we frequent and like

- McLoons Lobster Shack
315 Island Rd.
Spruce Head, ME.04858
207-593-1382
<https://mcloonslobsters.com>

A family-owned lobster shack located across from the area's oldest working lobster wharf. Along with the great harbor scenery and sunsets, McLoons offers fresh lobster rolls, lobster dinners, and local oysters, along with homemade soups and chowders. Non-seafood lovers can find something good, too. Boaters are welcome. Recently voted "Best Hidden Lobster Shack" by Yankee Magazine.

- Sterlingtown Public House
289 Common Rd.
Union, ME. 04862
207) 785 -0037
sterlingtownpublichouse.com/

A casual café with home- style food and a selection of wine and brews. With 6 changing draft lines and over 60 different bottled beers, including microbrews, gluten-free beers, and ciders, the Badger has been included in several publications about beer. Since they rely on locally-sourced providers, they say, "We're local, we're friendly, and we love our midcoast community."

- Primo
2 Main St.
Rockland, ME. 04841
207-596-0770
www.primorestaurant.com

Their website states, "Refined dining-- the ultimate farm to table experience." Primo's sustainable farm produces their vegetables, livestock, and flowers. Gourmet Italian cooking is served in a variety of spaces. Primo receives acclaim from foodies for upscale creative and delicious dining.

- Archers on the Pier 207-594-2435
58 Ocean St. archersonthepier.com
Rockland, ME. 04841

With a scenic waterfront deck overlooking the harbor, Archers offers seafood in all its forms, along with steak, pasta, salads, and daily specials for lunch and dinner. Owner Lynn Archer gained fame in 2009 by winning Bobby Flay's Throwdown with her "King of Clubs" lobster club sandwich—a huge meal. Check out the Sunday jazz brunch.

- Rockland Café 207-596-7556
441 Main St. rocklandcafe.com
Rockland, ME. 04841

Rockland Cafe is a popular family-style diner/ restaurant serving breakfast, lunch and dinner, seven days a week. Famous for the size of its breakfasts. Menu offerings range from choice seafoods and "all you can eat seafood" specials to classic liver and onions. Their saying is: "Come as a stranger, and leave as a friend."

- Long Grain (207) 236 - 9001
20 Washington Street (207) 230-8735
Camden, Maine 04843 longgraincamden.com/

Eclectic Asian fusion foods with a local food focus we get take out meals here frequently all winter.

- FlipSide Coffee (207) 354-5221
189 Main St. facebook.com/flipsidecoffeemaine
Thomaston, ME 04861

One of my frequent stops for a late morning coffee or a burrito for lunch.

- Ancho Honey (207) 372-2111
6 Wallston Road anchohoney.com/
Tenants Harbor, ME 04860

With an eye toward global influences, Ancho Honey serves an ever-changing variety of quick, heat-at-home comfort food and to-go specials. One of our wintertime favorites for lunches that we take out and eat along the shore looking out over the bay.
